

Source: Wikipedia

The Olympics

Ten interesting questions to ask about the history of the biggest sports competition.

Data source: <https://www.kaggle.com/datasets/heesoo37/120-years-of-olympic-history-athletes-and-results>

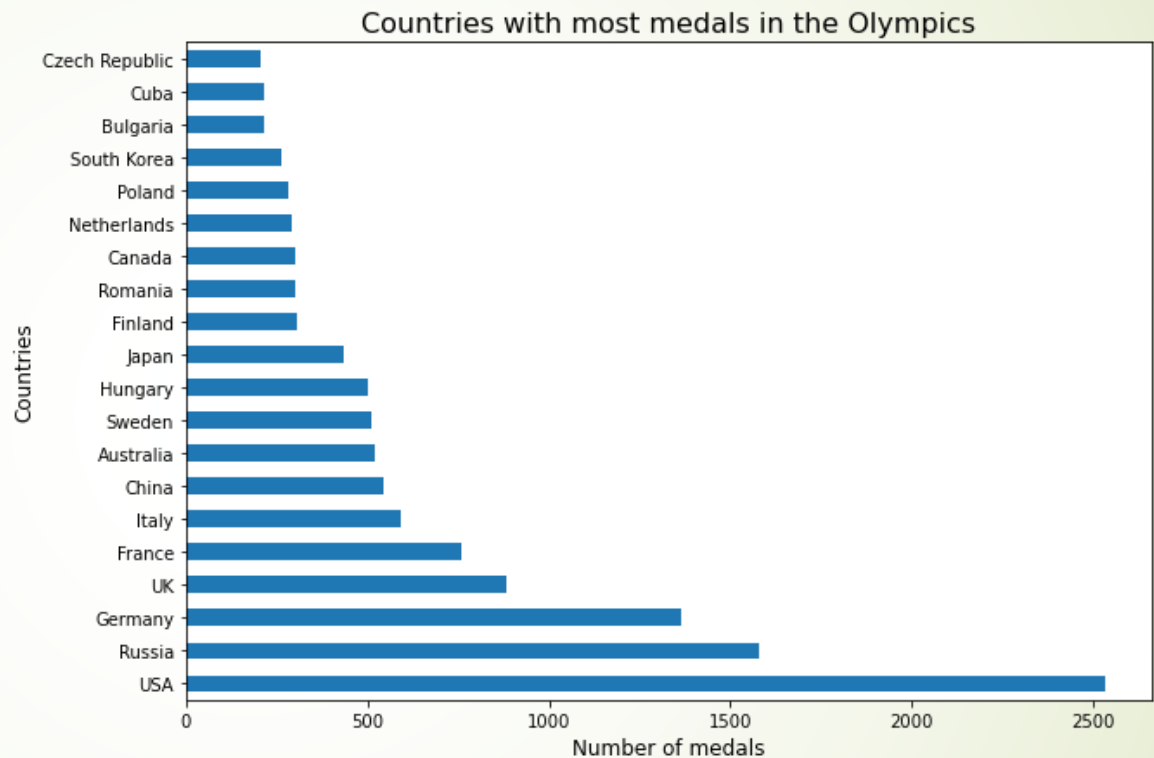

Introduction

- ▀ Why the Olympics?
- ▀ Anything can happen.
- ▀ What is the limit?

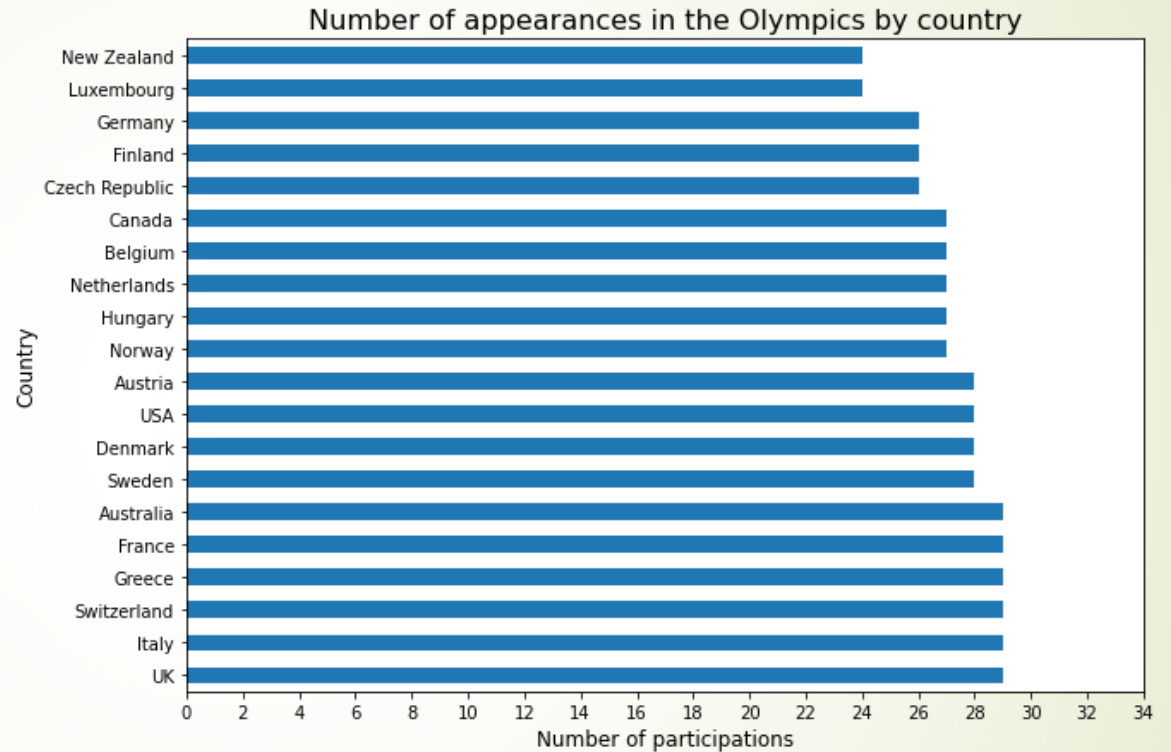

1. Which countries have won more medals in the history of the Olympics?

- USA, a clear winner.
- Europe, the boss!
- Where are the Latin American and African countries?
- The island.
- Size does not matter.
- Japanese mentality.

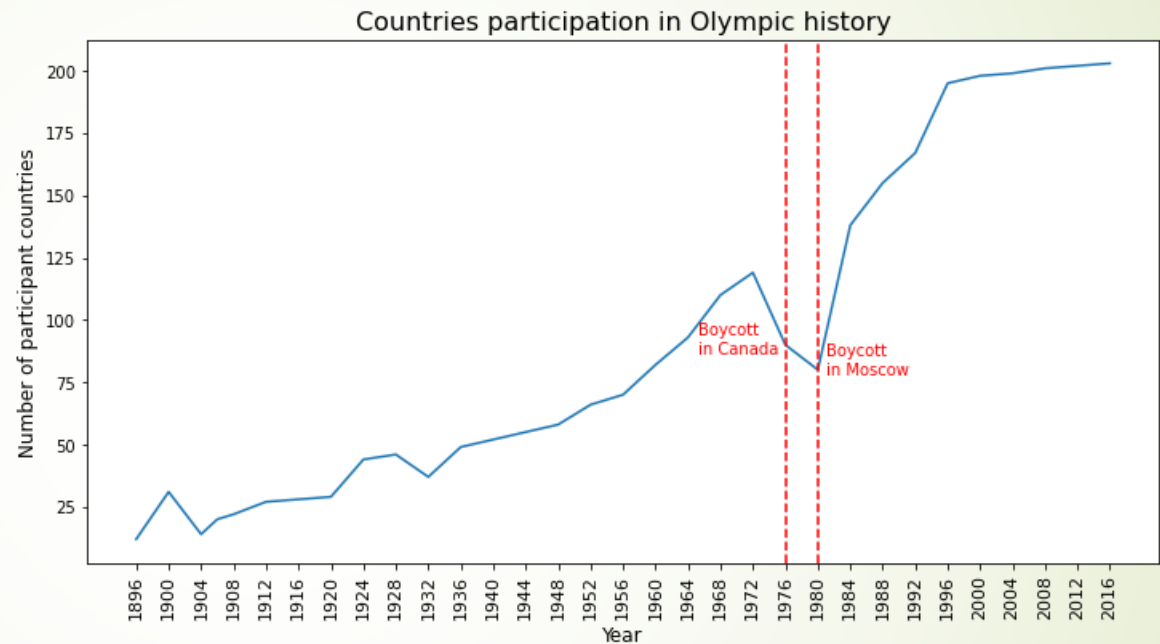

2. Countries with more appearances in the Olympics

- Isolation does not matter.
- It all started here.
- Europe, again.
- Winning effectiveness.

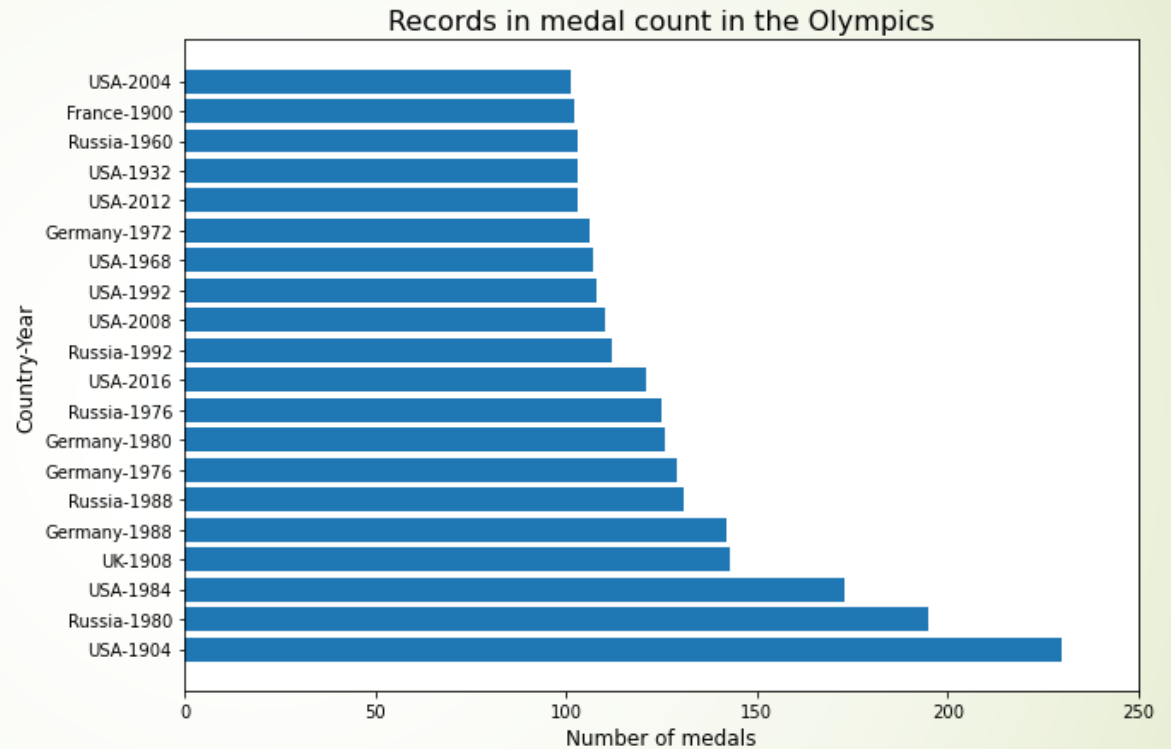

3. Are more countries participating in the Olympics than before?

- Before and after WW
- The boycotts
- The magical 80's and 90's

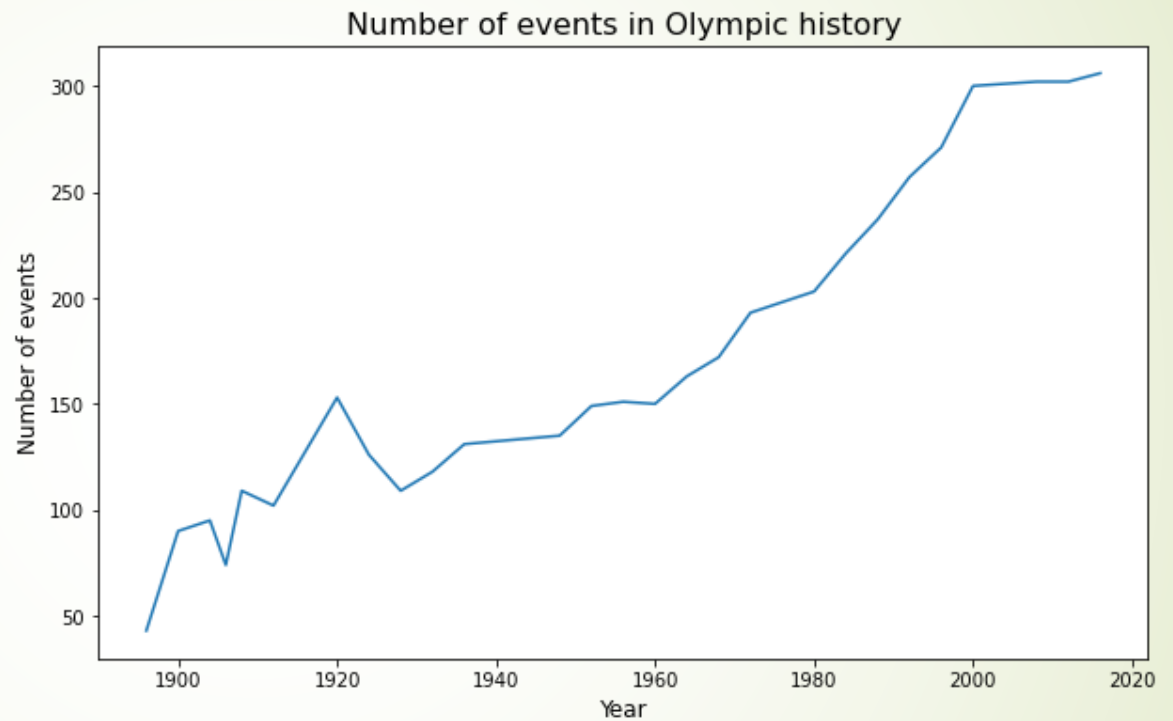

4. Which is the record of winning more medals in a competition?

- USA, the best!
- Leaving US behind.
- LA comeback!
- Nothing but the trio.

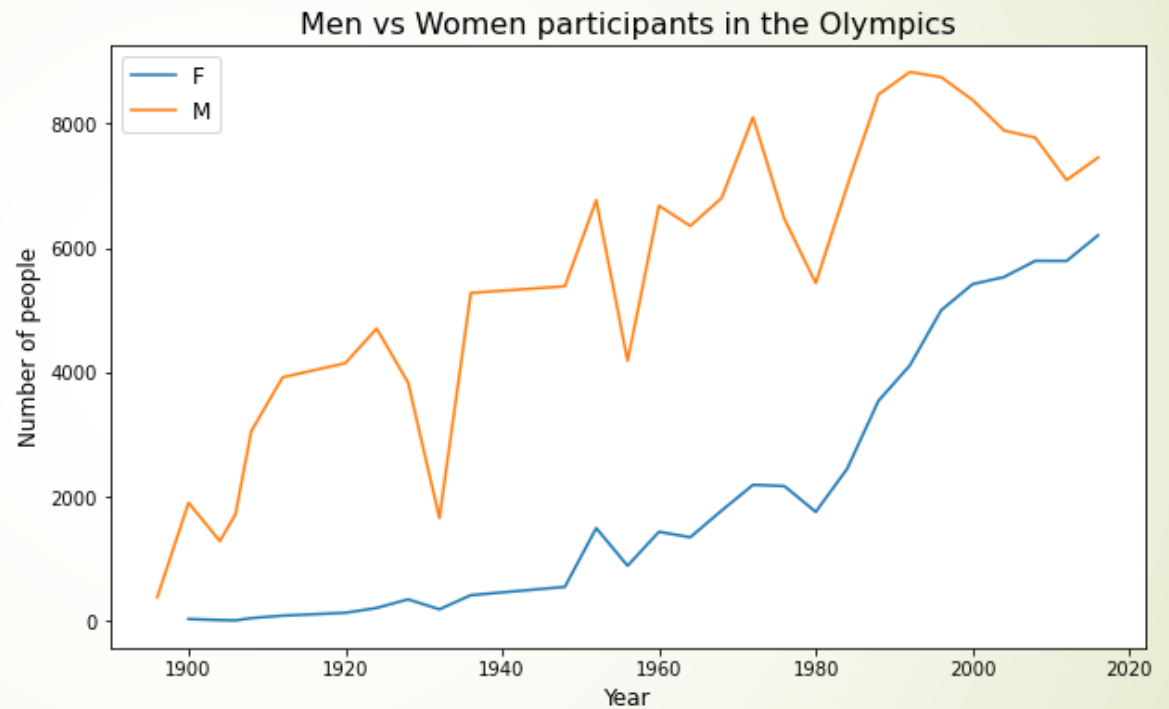

5. Has the number of events in the Olympics increased?

- 20's boom.
- Second half of the century.
- Rugby & Wrestling (few of the last ones).
- The eternal Fencing.

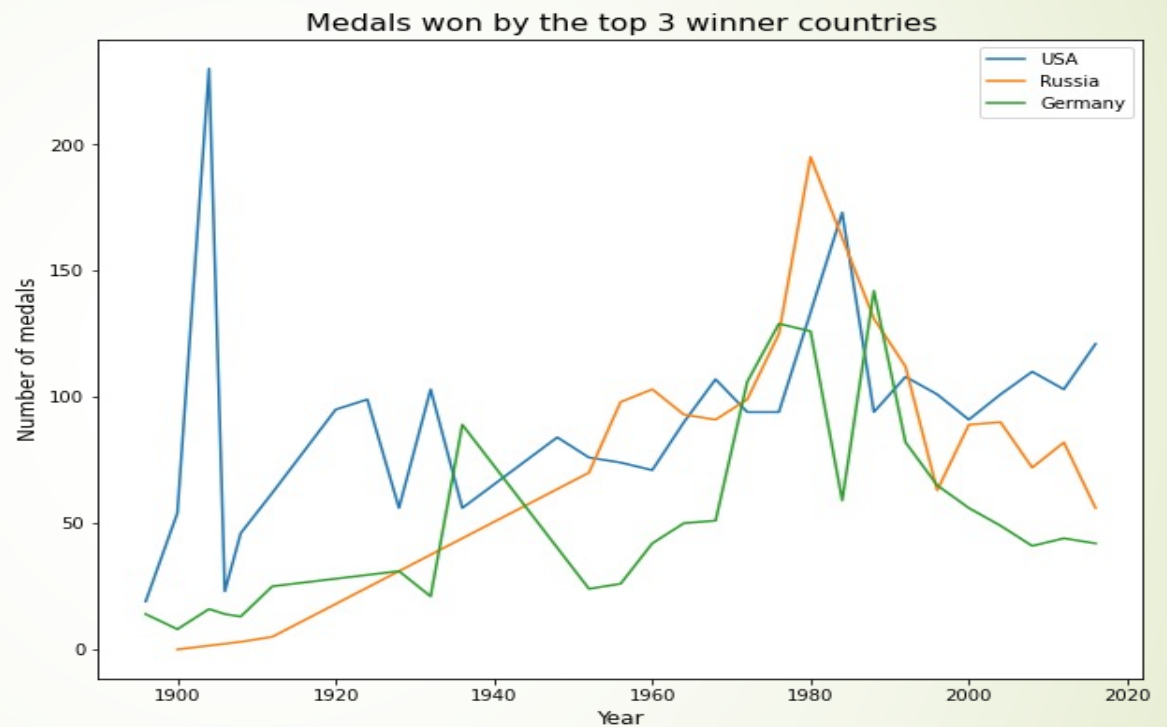

6. Has women participation in the Olympics increased?

- Stable increase.
- Best 80's and 90's.
- Conflicts affected situation.

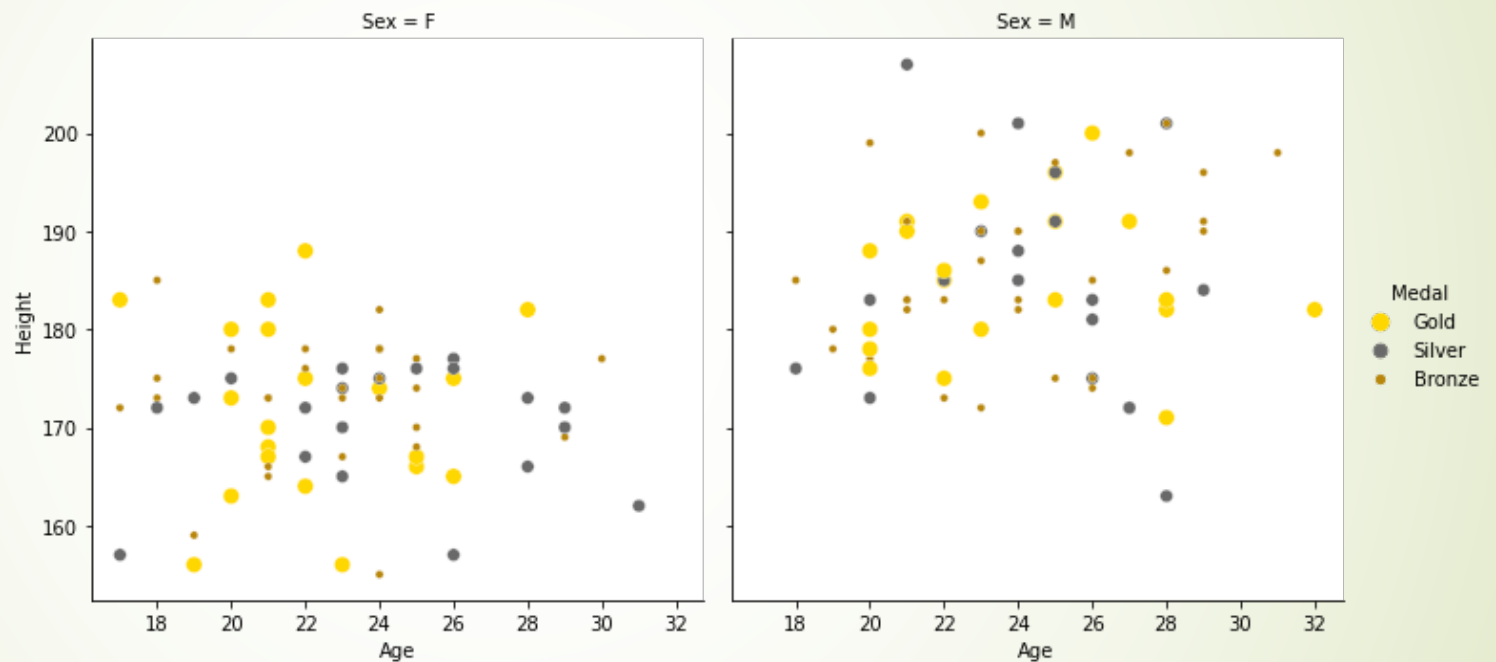

7. Which countries dominate in winning medals?

- War did not affect.
- Good beginning of century.
- Home sweet home.
- Losing power in the new century.

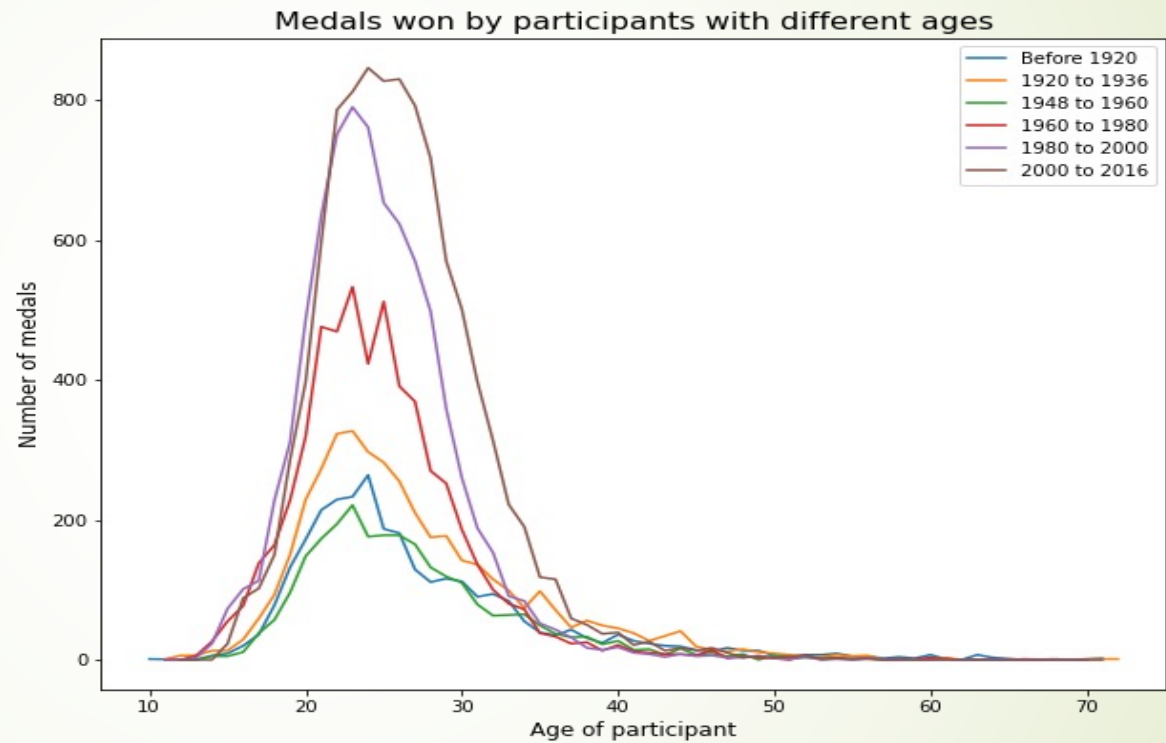

8. Are age and height important at winning in Taekwondo?

- Early 20's
- Important youth.
- Natural Growth.
- Gender matters.

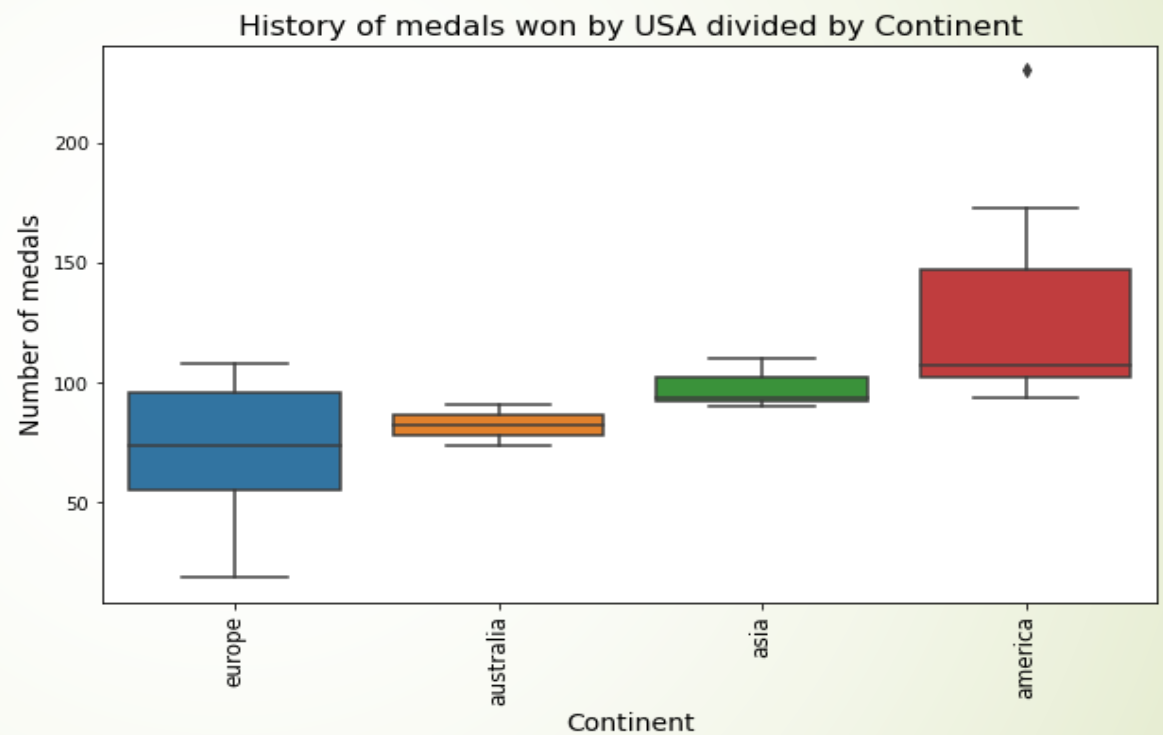

9. Are young people winning more medals than before?

- Time is better for the experienced.
- More medals?
- Competition demanded older people in war times.

10. Which continent suits better USA to win more medals?

- America for Americans.
- Not so fan of Europe.
- New record in 2028?

Conclusion

The main insights I got from this, are:

- USA dominates.
- Size, population or location does not matter to succeed.
- Technology helps.
- Many countries aim for number 2.
- Gender equity.
- Event growth in the future (skateboard, dance)

There is always chance to improve.